

Peace has many dimensions. It is not only a state of relationships among nations. We cannot expect to live in a world of peace if we are unable to live in peace with those close to us. . . . The responsibility for peace begins with each person in relationships with family and friends, and extends to community life and national activities. There are no simple recipes.

The YMCA Peace Medallion is awarded annually to individuals and groups who, without any special resources, have demonstrated a commitment to peace through special contributions made within their community
